Eric Greitens

13 May 2009

Dr. Eric Greitens is a Senior Fellow at the Truman School of Public Affairs at the University of Missouri and a Senior Fellow at the Center for the Study of Ethics and Human Values at Washington University, where he teaches on public service, ethics, and leadership.

He was an Angier B. Duke Scholar at Duke University where he studied ethics, philosophy, and public policy. Selected as a Rhodes and Truman Scholar, he attended the University of Oxford from 1996 through 2000. There he earned a master's degree in development studies in 1998, and a Ph.D. in politics in 2000.

His doctoral thesis, Children First, investigated the ways in which international humanitarian organizations can best serve war-affected children. He has worked as a humanitarian volunteer, documentary photographer, and researcher in Rwanda, Cambodia, Albania, Mexico, India, the Gaza Strip, Croatia, and Bolivia. His book of award-winning photographs and essays, Strength and Compassion, grew from his humanitarian work.
